

We will argue tomorrow the fact that referral would bring us right into the middle of the busiest part of the legislative session. The matter has been given broad consideration in the public and private forum, including testimony, for 1 year, with Members of Congress and experts giving full consideration to it, with people at the highest levels, those representing presidents, having testified on both sides of the issue. Those who have served presidents do not agree with some of those views. We have had all the testimony.

We finally come to JOHN STENNIS' proposition, that this is a political issue. Since it involves the lives and fortunes of our people, do we have any less right to seek the concurrence of the Congress with the President when war is involved—not an incident or a repelling of sudden attack, but war on a massive scale we are talking about, shown by the experience we have just gone through?

So I hope Members of the Senate will consider the record. It is very important. My own opinion is that tomorrow's vote is the decisive vote on the whole issue of whether we will or will not have congressional action in this field, and I hope very much the motion will be rejected.

PROGRAM

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. Mr. President, the program for tomorrow is as follows:

The Senate will convene at 12 o'clock meridian. After the two leaders have been recognized under the standing order, the distinguished junior Senator from New York (Mr. BUCKLEY) will be recognized for not to exceed 15 minutes, after which there will be a period for the transaction of routine morning business, or not to exceed 30 minutes, with statements therein limited to 3 minutes.

At the conclusion of the period for the transaction of routine morning business, the Chair will lay before the Senate the unfinished business, S. 2956, a bill to make rules governing the use of the Armed Forces of the United States in the absence of a declaration of war by Congress.

At 2 p.m. tomorrow, the Senate will vote by rollcall on a motion by the distinguished Senator from Nebraska (Mr. HRUSKA) to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee. Following that yea-and-nay vote, in the event the motion to refer is rejected, amendments will be called up, and rollcall votes thereon are expected.

Mr. JAVITS. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. I yield.

Mr. JAVITS. I can assure the Senator, because we already have been asked—and I say this only so that Senators or members of their staffs who read the RECORD may be informed—that there will be amendments. From the nature of the amendments, I believe that decisions will be taken on those amendments. Whether or not they will be yea and nay votes, obviously I cannot tell, but I believe so.

So all Senators should be alerted to the fact that not only will there be voting at 2 o'clock, but also that thereafter, for the remainder of the afternoon, it is most likely that a number of amendments will be called up, considered, and acted on.

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. I thank the Senator.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ROBERT C. BYRD. Mr. President, if there be no further business to come before the Senate, I move, in accordance with the order previously entered, that the Senate stand in adjournment until 12 o'clock noon tomorrow.

The motion was agreed to; and at 4:35 p.m. the Senate adjourned until tomorrow, Tuesday, April 11, 1972, at 12 o'clock meridian.

of tobacco allotments or transfers across county lines.

Since that time, Congressman WATKINS ABBITT, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Tobacco, has announced that he would not be a candidate for reelection. He will be greatly missed, for no Member of the other body has been more stalwart in representing the interests of rural areas and tobacco producers; his knowledge and long experience have been valuable to all of us.

The bill before the Senate today permits the leasing of flue-cured tobacco quotas throughout the marketing year, rather than requiring that any leasing be made before planting time. In this respect the bill extends to flue-cured tobacco the same procedure already being followed in burley tobacco, under the prudence program enacted last year. I have no objection to the bill and am glad to support its passage.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, all after the enacting clause in H.R. 13361 is stricken and the text of S. 3068 as reported by the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry is substituted therefor.

The question is on the engrossment of the amendment and third reading of the bill.

The amendment was ordered to be engrossed and the bill to be read a third time.

The bill (H.R. 13361) was read the third time and passed.

Mr. MANSFIELD. I ask unanimous consent that S. 3068 be indefinitely postponed.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Does the distinguished minority leader desire to be recognized at this time?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I yield my time to the distinguished senior Senator from South Carolina (Mr. THURMOND).

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I also yield my time to the distinguished Senator from South Carolina.

DEATH OF JAMES F. BYRNES, DISTINGUISHED SOUTH CAROLINIAN

Mr. THURMOND. Mr. President, it is with deep regret that I now announce the death of James F. Byrnes, a great South Carolinian and a great American, who died yesterday in Columbia, S.C. He was a Member of this body for 11 years, having served from 1930 to 1941 as part of a long and distinguished career in public service. It is an honor for me to speak today in praise of him.

His service to the Nation and to the State of South Carolina are hallmarks of great distinction. The scope of his long public career was broad, and he was recognized around the world for his great achievements. Nowhere, however, was James Byrnes' greatness recognized more than in his native State. He had served as a Congressman in South Carolina from 1910 to 1925, before coming to the U.S. Senate. Then following his successive service as an Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, Director of Economic Stabilization, Director of War Mobilization, and U.S. Secretary of State, he was elected Governor of South Carolina. The products of his public career touched all of our lives, and we have reaped the benefits.

Governor Byrnes was a loyal friend. He was a man of great independence. He was guided by his conscience. His key role in the administration during World War II led him to be known as the Assistant President. It was during his service as Secretary of State that he first gave the warning that the Communist world posed a threat to world peace, and that this Nation must face that challenge from a position of strength. His term as Governor was one of enlightenment and pointed the way for continuing progress in our State.

I feel a great personal loss in the death of Governor Byrnes. All of us are saddened on this occasion. We will miss him, and I hope that our words will be of comfort to Mrs. Byrnes and all those close to them.

Mr. President, the wife of the President, Mrs. Richard Nixon, plans to attend the funeral of Governor Byrnes and to represent the President at the funeral on Wednesday next.

I am informed that General Clay will deliver a tribute to Governor Byrnes in front of the State House in Columbia. Following that, the funeral will be held at the Trinity Episcopal Church which is across the street from the State House.

Any Senators who wish to attend the funeral can contact my office today and arrangements will be made for them to ride down on Air Force Jet No. 1 that will be carrying Mrs. Nixon and the South Carolina congressional delegation to the funeral.

Mr. President, editorials and articles about the life and death of Governor Byrnes have appeared in newspapers all over South Carolina and the Nation. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that these tributes to Governor Byrnes be printed in the Record.

There being no objection, the tributes were ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

[From the Columbia (S.C.) State, Apr. 10, 1972]

BYRNES, BROWN OLD ALLIES, OLD FOES (By Kent Krell)

The first week of May three years ago was a special one for the late James F. Byrnes. He celebrated his 90th birthday, 63rd wedding anniversary, received a personal visit from President Nixon and held an unheralded reunion with another famous South Carolinian.

Nixon appeared with a frail-looking Byrnes on the porch of the latter's home on May 3, 1969, one day after his birthday and wedding anniversary.

"You couldn't come to us, so we came to you," the President told Byrnes. The former South Carolina governor had intended to visit with Nixon in Washington but ill health made that impossible.

"Never in history," added the President, "has one man held more top offices with more distinction than Gov. Byrnes."

The porch appearance was Byrnes' last one in public.

Generally unnoticed at that time three years ago was a visit made to the Byrnes home in Columbia by State Sen. Edgar A. Brown, patriarch of the South Carolina Legislature.

Once close personal friends and political allies, Byrnes and Brown had had a falling out. The May, 1962 meeting brought them back together.

Brown, then 80, and the 93-year-old Byrnes reportedly had a great time swapping old political stories from their long careers in public service.

The early careers of Byrnes and Brown closely paralleled each other. Both began their legal careers in Aiken County. Both knew shorthand. Byrnes was a court stenographer. Brown was a stenographer for a law firm.

When Byrnes ran successfully for solicitor in 1908, Brown succeeded him as court stenographer.

In 1913, Brown got married and Byrnes, then a congressman, was his best man.

There was a strong bond between Byrnes and Brown for the next 40 years. But coolness between the two men developed with the 1952 presidential race.

Brown said Byrnes' endorsement of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower led to their parting of the ways. Byrnes was governor of South Carolina at the time.

And two years later when U.S. Sen. Burnet R. Maybank died, the rift between Brown and Byrnes widened. The Democratic state committee, contending there wasn't time to hold a primary, nominated Brown. Gov. Byrnes, irked over that procedure, called a special primary. Byrnes then endorsed Strom Thurmond who waged a successful write-in campaign against Brown.

Brown was particularly hurt by those events and said so. While the bitterness lingered on, Byrnes always denied there was any personal ill-feeling on his part.

And it wasn't until early May of 1968 that the two elderly statesmen met at Byrnes' home and, in effect, said to each other: "Let's let bygones be bygones."

[From the Columbia (S.C.) State, Apr. 10, 1972]

BYRNES WAS "POP" TO MORE THAN 300 (By Ginny Carroll)

To more than 300 men and women throughout the United States, he was "Pop Byrnes," the man who gave them the money to go to college and then backed up the dollars with parent-like inspiration and guidance.

Almost all of them were at loose ends, finishing high school, wanting an education that seemed almost impossible to get when James F. Byrnes entered their lives.

The Rev. Hal Norton of Marion lost his father at 16. One of nine children, he didn't know where to turn. But in 1949 he became one of the first Byrnes Scholars.

"I used to tell Mrs. Byrnes he was the man who opened the door into a big world for me," he said in an interview Sunday, hours after Byrnes died at his Columbia home.

"I don't know how I could have gone to college without his scholarship, but he gave much more important things than what he gave in dollars.

"In the 23 years I have known him, I never wrote that what he didn't write back on any matter. His great words of wisdom and the companionship he shared through the years were far more enriching than any money he could have spent. Any problem was his problem," Norton said.

Byrnes set up the Byrnes Foundation in 1949, primarily to help young people who had lost one or both parents and who demonstrated financial need.

Mrs. Carol Sandifer of West Columbia, recalls that Byrnes once told "his children" that he initiated the scholarships because "He didn't want a memory in brick or stone."

MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1972

The Senate met at 11 a.m. and was called to order by Hon. DAVID H. GAMBRELL, a Senator from the State of Georgia.

PRAYER

O God, who by Thy spirit dost lead men to desire a better world, to seek for truth, to rejoice in beauty, and to long for perfection, illuminate and inspire all thinkers, all statesmen, and all leaders, that in all their labors they may be guided by whatsoever is true and pure and lovely that Thy kingdom may come on earth.

Direct us, O Lord, in this Chamber in all our doings with Thy gracious favor, and further us with Thy continual help; that in all our work begun, continued, and ended in Thee, we may advance the welfare of all the people and glorify Thy holy name.

In the Redeemer's name, we pray. Amen.

AMENDMENT OF THE AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ACT

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry be discharged from its further consideration of H.R. 13361, the House companion bill to S. 3068, that the Senate proceed to its consideration; that all after the enacting clause of H.R. 13361 be stricken, and the text of S. 3068 substituted therefor.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, the committee is discharged from the further consideration of the House bill. It will be stated by title for the information of the Senate.

The second assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

H.R. 13361. A bill to amend section 316(c) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there objection to the present consideration of H.R. 13361?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. President, the Senate bill, S. 3068, was introduced by the distinguished Senator from North Carolina (Mr. JORDAN) with whom I have worked on tobacco problems on many occasions and who has been most faithful in promoting the well-being of the farmers of his State—and of farm families who depend on tobacco for their livelihood wherever they live. The bill was considered by the committee together with a similar bill which had passed the House of Representatives, H.R. 13361, and the Senate bill has now been substituted for the House language.

I would simply point out that at the time the House Committee on Agriculture was holding hearings on this subject, I did go over and testify, on February 8, because I was concerned that one of the bills before that committee included burley tobacco. That bill, which was not approved, would have permitted leasing of quotas across county lines, and would even have permitted the sale of tobacco allotments—which I have consistently opposed. I was assured at that time by the distinguished chairman of the Tobacco Subcommittee, Congressman WAT ABBITT, that the committee did not intend to change the burley program in any way, and would not approve the sale testimony from Rear Adm. E. L. Perry, Coast Guard Chief of Staff; and John P. Olsson, Deputy Under Secretary of Transportation.

Hearings were recessed subject to call.
